COURSE ABSTRACT

This course will provide a short (12 sessions) but intensive hands-on analysis of contract law from a comparative perspective (mainly, civil law v common law). The course will highlight the most relevant issues in contract law that need attention from the point of view of legal comparison. It will be mostly focused on commercial transactions, offering an opportunity for the students to grasp the practical implications of being a lawyer in a globalized market economy with a problem-based methodology.

GRADING CRITERIA

Class participation	30%
Final Exam	70%

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

To pass the course the student shall have to obtain an overall passing grade at the end of the course considering the grading criteria and weights established above. The class participation grade will measure both the attendance and the real, meaningful participation of the student in the class discussions. The final exam will be a multiple-choice test with no less than 20 questions where only one answer will be valid. In this course, the use of AI is allowed as long as it serves as a learning and research purpose, but all AI references not properly acknowledged which are found in the students' work product shall be treated as plagiarism and will be sanctioned accordingly.
